

Washington, DC - Congressman Bruce Braley (D-Iowa) today announced $99,000 for the Turkey River Recreational Corridor (TRCC) in Clayton and Fayette counties. The grant money comes from United States Department of Agriculture Rural Development Funds.

"Projects like the Turkey River Corridor are essential conservation efforts in Iowa," Braley said. "This money will help preserve and enhance nature trails and parks along the Turkey River providing scenic recreation for families in Eastern Iowa."

TRCC has planned 18 projects to be completed within the corridor including pedestrian and water trails, dam restoration, park improvements and streetscapes along the Turkey River. The total cost of the project is $171,600.